RECOMMENDATIONS (via LinkedIn)

"Andy is a person who is truly an artist on modern IT canvas. Supported by his deep and broad knowledge and skill, he is able to transform client's abstract idea into highly creative solution, both visually and functionally. His exceptional multitasking and pressure handling ability allows his client to dig deeper into finding best fit solution on UI/UX solution and even deeper into more technical aspect of the system. While his integrity and loyalty will provide ease of mind to anyone hiring him as their mutual partner.”

- Bayu Ariefianto, Vice President, Metrix System Teknologi, PT.

"Andy worked closely with our design team at Leadformance. He quickly and enthusiastically learned a new stack and toolset; including Git, Ruby/RVM, Rails/HAML/Liquid. He worked quickly while under pressure to deliver, and was always friendly while doing so.”

- Richard Michael, Chief Technology Officer, Leadformance.

"Andy is very talented in what he does. He makes sure each project is completed promptly and accurately. Anybody that chooses to work with him will learn not only about web development, but about being a hard worker. Andy always tries to make the project flawless and he holds his work to the highest standards. He is quite valuable and would be well-suited in any work environment.”

- Danielle Rizzo, Project Manager, Agenda26.

“Andy is very skilled frontend developer. He helped us out with different frontend projects and delivered very well structured HTML, CSS, and JS code. As a frontend coder myself, I was impressed by his skills.”

- Paul Veugen, Founder, Usabilla.

“Andy definitely deserves my thumbs up! Working with him on a handful of projects is an awesome experience. I love how fun and easy it is when we're sharing our ideas, methods, and techniques on getting the job done. It actually feels like we've been together for quiet some time and its definitely a plus for me. He's some sort of a mentor, totally a kick-ass partner, and an indispensable part of any team. Give him a try and he'll exceed your expectations!”

- Lance Quejada, Front-end Engineer, Conceptuous.

“It is always nice and enjoyable to work with Andy. He demonstrates all skills a great front-end developer should have. A decent guy with pleasant personality whom you can maintain a fruitful and reliable relationship. Recommended!”

- Kemas Antonius, Agile Project Manager, Conceptuous.

“Andy is an exceptional front end developer who lives and breathes all things digital. He is easy to work with and professional throughout his approach. He possesses a wide skill set and I would not hesitate to recommend him. Looking forward to working with him again!”

- Dominic Sawyer, Owner/Founder, Dot Tourism & Daytripfinder.

"A combination of exceptional skill as a web programmer, wide-range knowledge of Information Technology, a creative problem-solver and strong analytical personality, has brought Andy as a reliable web developer that worth be reckoned in the industry. A great, timely, friendly and professional person to work with. I have no hesitation in recommending him. Two thumbs up!"
